

Labor Leaders Hurl Hot Words At U. S. Mobilization Muddle

By HAROLD W. WARD
WASHINGTON — (AP) — The heads of the AFL and the CIO each asserted today that Congress is to blame for the mobilization squabble because it enacted a weak defense production act.

AFL President William Green, addressing a conference of CIO, AFL, machinists and rail union officials at a precedent-making nationwide rally, said Congress had "failed the people."

"In adopting the defense production act last year," Green said in a prepared speech, "Congress went out of its way to lard the law with special privilege for the business interests. Under that law, which expires on June 30, it is virtually impossible to stabilize the cost of living."

Settlement Believed Near

The labor groups have withdrawn from the government agencies, including the wage stabilization board, as a gesture of protest. They were motivated directly by the wage ceiling at a level 10 per cent above Jan. 15, 1950.

Despite their criticism of Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson and others, there were indications that a settlement was not far off on the major quarrel over a wage stabilization board which would handle some labor disputes.

AFL President William Green told a separate rally of the AFL, machinists and railway unions yesterday that "unless some unexpected legal difficulty arises" a new wage board could be set up in a relatively short time.

Johnston Returns

Similarly, Dan W. Tracy, head of the AFL Electrical Workers, said if the wage problem is ironed out, the other big fight with Mobilization Director Wilson could be settled "within 48 hours."

Tracy said there are indications the administration is changing its position on the manpower question. Wilson said in an interview Monday he knew of no one around him who wanted to control workers—a point on which the labor leaders had expressed anxiety.

Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston was due back from Key West this afternoon, and was expected to begin again a round of peace talks with the labor leaders and management spokesmen.

Johnston met with President Truman yesterday and was asked to redouble his efforts, according to word from Key West.

Gentle Spring Turns Up As Rather Rough Customer In Michigan

(By The Associated Press)
Spring came calling on Michigan today as a rough customer rather than a gentle visitor.

At its official arrival at 5:26 a. m. (EST) there was ice and snow, and snappy cold.

Cadillac reported an overnight temperature of 8 degrees above zero. Temperatures generally ranged from 12 to 19.

It will stay cold today and tonight. There will be more snow flurries.

The U. S. weather bureau said it will be fair and warmer tomorrow, however.

Fight To Abolish RFC Opens Today

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senators seeking to abolish the Reconstruction Finance Corporation open the first phase of their fight today with moves to block President Truman's plan to shake up RFC's top command.

Their announced goals are to (A) Beat down the President's proposal to reorganize the confederacy-ridden government lending agency, and (B) Go on, then, to abolish it.

Public Confidence Lost
In advance of hearings before the Senate expenditures committee, Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) told a reporter: "The reorganization plan appears in some danger of being defeated because of growing sentiment for complete abolition of RFC."

Foes of Mr. Truman's plan to wipe out the RFC's five man board of directors and install a one man administrator in their place, had the first inning before McClellan's committee. He declined to express his personal views on the proposal.

Senator Hendrickson (R-N.J.), the scheduled lead-off witness, told a reporter he would argue that RFC has lost the public's confidence as a result of the report by a Senate Banking subcommittee that an influence clique with White House contacts has dominated its affairs.

Hendrickson's announced stand jibes with the position of the Senate Republican policy committee, which has called for rejection of the reorganization plan and liquidation of RFC.

The House GOP policy committee took the same stand, but the House refused to go along with a move to block the proposed reorganization. It is due to go into effect April 20 unless the Senate vetoes it.

Actually, a majority of the House members voting disapproved of the RFC reorganization plan. But the law under which Mr. Truman proposed it requires a majority of all members—49 in the Senate, 218 in the House—for rejection of a reorganization move. The House vote was 18 short.

Ring Found In Sink Buried In Fire Ruins

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — (AP) — Two months ago Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Ulmer escaped unhurt when a fire destroyed their apartment. But — Mrs. Ulmer fainted on recalling she had left an engagement ring she valued at $1,800, on the bathroom sink.

For weeks Ulmer combed the ruins of the building looking for the ring. Finally he unearthed the sink and triumphantly produced the ring. It was imbedded in ice and undamaged.

Mrs. Ulmer fainted again.

U. S. Military Power Doubled

Armed Forces Over 2,900,000 Mark

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

KEY WEST, Fla. — (AP) — President Truman served notice today that the United States has doubled its armed forces since the invasion of Korea to resist "still further the Communist attacks against other free nations."

An exchange of telegrams between the president and Secretary of Defense Marshall disclosed that this country's uniformed forces now stand at more than 2,900,000 nine months after Korean Reds launched their unprovoked attack June 25.

The immediate goal is 3,500,000, as announced by President Truman last January. That means a net increase of 600,000 more will be needed. Actually, the number will be somewhat higher because in the meantime several thousands will have had epistomies, become casualties, or leave the service for other reasons.

The draft has brought in about 400,000 men since last September. However, it has been only within the last two months that the draft has added to the strength of combat units. Four months of training were needed before the draftees inducted in September were ready to begin moving into combat elements of the army.

The navy, air force and marines have used no draftees so far.

Peron Regime Seizes Independent Paper

By REGINALD WOOD

BUENOS AIRES — (AP) — La Prensa, champion of a free press and relentless critic of President Juan D. Peron's regime, ceased to exist last night as an independent newspaper.

Peron, acting through a congressional committee, formally seized control of the newspaper, which in its nearly 82 years of life had refused to be dominated by Argentine governments.

Police guards took over the newspaper's main offices. The committee barred Editor-Publisher Alberto Gainza Paz — whose family owns the paper — and all other employees unless committee members were present.

As an unincorporated undertaking owned solely by the Paz family, La Prensa has not published its financial statements. Tax returns published last year by the government revealed, however, that the newspaper made more than $1,000,000 profit in 1948, when its earning power already was restricted by government decree.

Reliable sources estimated the value of its real estate, including five buildings in downtown Buenos Aires, at well over $1,000,000, and of its printing equipment at another $1,000,000 or more.

Killer Of Five Gets 300 Years In Prison

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — Admitted slayer William E. Cook, Jr., today was sentenced to terms totaling 300 years in "Alcatraz or another safe prison where he has no chance to escape" for the slaying of the five members of the Carl Mosser family of Atwood, Illinois.

U. S. District Judge Stephen Chandler gave Cook, who showed no visible signs of emotion, 60 years for each of five counts in the kidnap-murder of Mr. and Mrs. Mosser and their three children.

"Society stands indicted for permitting this child to grow up in inhuman conditions that permitted these crimes," Chandler said.

Detroit Train Wreck Blamed On Faulty Rail

Employees Of State Form Association

DETROIT — (AP) — A faulty rail was given the official blame today for the New York Central passenger train wreck last Thursday in which three persons were killed and 34 injured.

A federal-state-railroad investigative group absolved the train crew of responsibility.

While the death toll was limited, the midnight wreck was one of Michigan's worst rail smash-ups.

The train, Cincinnati-bound, piled up at Trenton, 17 miles west of here. Several cars left the rails.

Killed were Mrs. Grace Allen, 25, East Lansing; her year-old daughter, Janet, and Mrs. Florence Shepard, 58, St. Petersburg, Fla.

Findings were issued from a joint inquiry by the interstate commerce commission, the Michigan public service commission, and the NYC and Detroit, Toledo and Shoreline railroads.

The faulty rail was part of a cross-over "diamond" in the railroad tracks which is maintained by the Detroit, Toledo and Shoreline railroads.

The investigators said the rail had cracked under the weight of the train because of deterioration in the metal which was not visible to the eye.

MACKINAW OPENS ESCANABA HARBOR — Slicing through bay ice at a steady pace of from seven to ten knots per hour, the Coast Guard cutter Mackinaw arrived at Escanaba yesterday afternoon to open channels for shipping. Capt. Dwight H. Dexter reported the cutter encountered ice up to 36 inches in places in the bay. The ice-crusher today is working in the vicinity of Minneapolis Shoal lighthouse and will return here tonight to spend two or three days breaking up bay ice. Dock Dispute May Delay Big Iron Ore Rush At Escanaba

Labor trouble today stopped the movement of iron ore from the mines to Escanaba and may delay the opening of the 1951 shipping season here.

About 90 Chicago & North Western dock workers, members of the Iron Ore Handlers union, AFL affiliate, today were absent from the job in protest against terms of their present contract with the C&NW railroad.

Technically not a strike, the men did not report for work and served notice yesterday they were staying away "until further notice" under a clause in the contract that permits a man to be absent from the job for one season without losing seniority.

Rail Shipments Malted

C. M. Longman, Chicago, C&NW vice president-operations, here yesterday for a conference with mining officials, expressed hope the dispute could be settled soon.

"Our executive offices in Chicago are handling this cessation of work with the Army, who control the railroads, and with the Railroad Mediation Board in Washington," Longman said.

The mines were advised of the labor trouble and told not to load more ore for Escanaba. The first trainload of ore, 90 cars from the Mineral Hills district at Iron River, arrived in Escanaba last night and is standing in the yards.

First Boats Friday

Despite the labor difficulty Longman was hopeful that Escanaba this year would see "the greatest ore movement we have ever had." Mining officials yesterday asked the C&NW to ship up to 8,000,000 tons of ore in 1951 from Escanaba, an increase of 3,000,000 tons.

Tax Deal Mixed Up At Lansing

Agreement Will Be Sought Next Week

LANSING — (AP) — Governor Williams and key legislators will try again next week to agree on a new tax policy—or at least how much more money the state needs. Williams offered some new estimates of the need.

The first conference last week between Williams and the "bipartisan cooperation" committees of the legislature could not even agree on what money was needed, let alone how to raise it.

Williams arranged another session with new estimates that the state's general fund deficit at the end of 1952, the next fiscal year, will be nearly $80,000,000.

Williams reported the deficit at the end of the last fiscal year was $21,311,231, at the end of the current fiscal year would be $50,597,835 and at the end of 1952 would be $79,997,835.

Republican legislators are expected to disagree with the current and next year's estimates.

Brantford, Ont., Fire Kills Seven Children

BRANTFORD, Ont. — (AP) — Seven children perished in a fire that raced through a frame house in the six nations Indian reservation yesterday.

Bodies of six children of Wilfred Henry, owner of the dwelling, and 16-year old Arthur Crawford, a partially crippled cousin, were discovered in the ruins. The dead ranged in age from one to 16 years.

Marvin Henry, 14, escaped by jumping from an upstairs window. He said he had urged the others to follow him but none did.

A gas lamp hanging too close to the ceiling was blamed for the fire.

House Favors 2-Cent Gas Tax

Fruit Truckers Ask Special Treatment

LANSING — (AP) — Kent and Berrien county fruit and vegetable truckers got a cool reception yesterday in their request for small weight (license) tax increases.

They appeared before the House roads and bridges committee which is studying the good roads federation program for increased gasoline and weight taxes.

The truckers said their business was seasonal and that since they used the roads only during the harvest season they should get special treatment.

The House committee is restoring the two-cent gasoline tax increase proposed originally. The Senate had cut this to one and a half cents.

A bill passed the House yesterday making it a misdemeanor to forbid hunting on any land without the permission of the owner.

The House ways and means committee introduced a bill to remove a provision of the social welfare act which forbids giving old age assistance to anyone owning real property worth more than $6,000. The bill would give a flat exemption for the homestead, no matter what its valuation.

In the Senate, a bill passed authorizing 40-foot highway buses in Michigan. They are now restricted to 35 feet.

Vice Chiefs Branded Sinister Power In New York Politics

NEW YORK — (AP) — Senate crime investigators today issued a second invitation to New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to testify before them about gambling at Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Dewey had brushed aside a previous invitation, suggesting instead the senators come to the state capital at Albany to hear his views. But the committee rejected this idea.

Racketeer Frank Costello waited to testify for the seventh time today. He arrived at the federal building shortly before the session opened.

Costello appeared only briefly yesterday afternoon after former Mayor William O'Dwyer wound up his second day of testimony.

It was O'Dwyer who "dropped the bombshell in the committee's seventh day of open hearings here before a television audience of many millions."

First, the graying ex-mayor, now ambassador to Mexico, said Costello had been a "sinister influence" in Tammany Hall for many years.

Then, as he played with a paper clip, he acknowledged naming Frank Quayle as fire commissioner and James J. Moran as first deputy fire commissioner, while knowing that they were long-time friends of Brooklyn racketeer Joe Adonis.

O'Dwyer also said he appointed Philip Zichello to the post of deputy commissioner of hospitals, but without knowing that he was the brother-in-law of notorious New Jersey gambler Willie Morretti.

South Koreans Reported Near 38th Parallel

Fleeing Enemy Puts Up No Opposition

CENTRAL FRONT, KOREA — (AP) — An American tank force today entered Chunchon, communications center eight miles south of parallel 38. It met no interference. The American tanks were greeted by civilians waving flags.

By OLEN CLEMENTS

TOKYO — (AP) — The Chinese Communists have abandoned their central front bastion of Chunchon, battlefront reports said Wednesday night.

Chunchon is 8½ miles south of parallel 38. It was the major Chinese headquarters and supply base in South Korea.

On the east coast South Korean units were officially placed within 8½ miles of the old border between North and South Korea. Patrols may have reached or crossed the imaginary line.

Reds Vanish

AP Correspondent Tom Bradshaw, reported from the central front that United Nations troops were unopposed by the vanishing enemy. He said armored patrols were probing the area between the main Allied lines and Parallel 38.

Earlier reports placed American units five miles south of Chunchon.

From Eighth Army headquarters AP Correspondent Leif Erickson reported: "In pulling back from Chunchon, the Chinese Communists apparently have withdrawn their main forces back north of the 38th parallel."

On the east-central front, American artillery and planes decimated a small enemy concentration forming for an attack northwest of Pangam. About half the 200 Reds were killed.

Crossing Not Decided

A British general told Eighth army correspondents the Reds would not regain the initiative in Korea. Lt. Gen. Richard Nelson Gale, director general of

Alibis Claimed In Coed Killing

Kalamazoo Case Goes To Jury Friday

KALAMAZOO, Mich. — (AP) — A brand new surprise—one of many—developed today in the trial of Valorus Joe Mattheis and Raymond Lee Olson for the rape-slaying of co-ed Carolyn Drown.

Judge Lucien F. Sweet recessed court, gathered up prosecution and defense staffs and went to the home of 14-year-old LaVern Mattheis in nearby Vicksburg to take a deposition. Valorus Joe claims will help his alibi plea.

A cousin of Valorus Joe, LaVern couldn't come to court. He has the mumps.

Olson completed his defense yesterday by taking the stand and swearing he did not kill the attractive coed. His attorney put on six witnesses, including his sweetheart, Eleanor Kline, 19, to help him establish an alibi.

Olson said he was "very much worried about Eleanor (his sweetheart) being pregnant" and he had discussed it with Mattheis.

In supporting Olson's alibi yesterday, Miss Kline, a plump, short farm girl, admitted she had been intimate with Olson the first night she met him at a dance last August. She said there had been numerous intimacies since. She said Olson told her he was married but was getting a divorce.

The defense expects to complete its testimony in time for the case to go to the jury Friday.

General UN Session To Gather In Paris

LAKE SUCCESS — (AP) — The United Nations general assembly voted last night to hold its 1951 session in Paris beginning Nov. 4. The vote was 24-17, with 12 countries abstaining and seven absent.

The assembly also approved spending $2,350,000 on extra costs of the European meeting. This is $600,000 more than the sum originally approved. The United States, the Philippines, Iraq and Pakistan objected to the increase.

The session is being delayed six weeks from its usual opening date in September to allow erection of new buildings for the assembly.

PORT HURON — (AP) — The first shipload of coal of the year has been unloaded at the Marysville power plant of the Detroit Edison Company. The Dow Chemical, a 504-foot ship, unloaded 8,400 tons of coal at the plant Sunday. It is believed the earliest unloading in the history of the plant.

Locks At Soo Opening Early

Waterway Flooded For First Vessel

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. — (P)—The Sault Ste. Marie locks—at the earliest time in their 95-year history—are ready for the first freighter of the year.

The fourth, or Sabin lock, in the waterway connecting Lakes Superior and Huron was flooded yesterday, and is now ready for operation.

The earliest opening date previously was March 22, 1942, and the first freighter nosed through the next day, March 23.

It is not known here just when the first freighter will be ready to go through this year. Such passage usually is credited with opening the upper Great Lakes shipping season.

Last year, the first passage occurred on April 23.

More than three miles of ice-clear water now are reported above the locks, and six miles of clear water below. The ice-breaking tug Kaw also is reported at the mouth of the St. Marys river, keeping a clear ice path there.

The Sault Ste. Marie Coast Guard base also said that it expected to put out buoys in the river today, leading to the locks.

seven to 10 knots an hour the Mackinaw encountered no difficulty in breaking Little Bay de Noc ice up to 18 inches thick.

Today Capt. Dexter is taking the icebreaker south of Escanaba to the vicinity of Minneapolis Shoal, where ice is shoved around the lighthouse to a height of 30 feet. No orders have yet been received to put the light in commission for the season, according to Anton Jensen of Escanaba, officer in charge of Minneapolis Shoal lighthouse.

Will Return Tonight

Aboard the Mackinaw are the crews of the White Shoals, Grey's Reef and Skillogalee lighthouses. They will be taken to their light stations when ice conditions permit.

Yesterday the Mackinaw dropped off the crew of Lansing Shoal light at that lonely station north of Beaver Island.

The Mackinaw will return to Escanaba tonight and is expected to be in Little Bay de Noc for two or three days opening channels and a turning basin off the C. & N. W. ore docks.

There is open water and moving fields of ice from Minneapolis Shoal south in Green bay. Breaking the ice in the north end of the bay is expected to begin its movement with a shift of wind that will clear Escanaba harbor.

Ice Heavy In Places

In the Coast Guard service for 25 years, icebreaking is no new experience for Capt. Dexter, although he has been in command of the Mackinaw only since last July. He is originally from the state of Illinois and entered Coast Guard service in Washington, D. C.

The cutter Woodbine, a smaller vessel, was bucking ice today in the vicinity of St. Martin's island at the Lake Michigan entrance to Green bay.

Ice is windrowed in many places to a depth of a score of feet or more, while in other sections solid ice up to 36 inches was encountered.

The Mackinaw came to Escanaba from the Straits of Mackinac where the ice is heavy and badly windrowed. On March 12 the Mackinaw broke a channel up the St. Marys river to Sault Ste. Marie, the earliest visit of the Mackinaw to that port in history.

Hermansville Will Have Freezer For Green Beans

The Herbert A. Niemann interests have created a Hermansville enterprise which will offer Menominee county farmers a ready market for green beans.

The Niemanns—once the nation's leading producers of silver fox pelts—have converted their Hiawatha Fox farm plant on the outskirts of Hermansville to a unit for freezing fresh green beans to supplement a fresh-frozen, mixed vegetable business that has been started at Cedarburg, Wis., and at Thiensville, Wis., the company headquarters.

Irwin L. (Red) Sutherland, who managed the Hiawatha fox farm and represented Meyer township on the Menominee county board of supervisors, has returned to Hermansville to manage the new venture. Sutherland is touring the county this week signing up farmers to acreage contracts for production of green beans.

Goal Is 100 Acres

The first year's goal is 100 acres and 1,000,000 pounds of green beans. Sutherland says Menominee county farmers claim that, with a fair break in weather conditions, they can grow five tons of green beans to the acre.

The beans grown in Menominee county this summer will be hauled to farmers to receiving stations and trucked from these points to Hermansville. Two stations signed for the lower and mid-county areas are at the Joseph Nicholas farm on the Menominee river road and the Barney Nelson farm near Ingalls.

At Hermansville the beans will be processed and frozen fresh at 25 to 30 degrees below zero in a new refrigeration apparatus installed at the fox farm. The former slaughter house has been converted into holding room where the frozen vegetables can be held frozen for shipment to Cedarburg and Thiensville.

Sutherland has a crew of eight men employed preparing the plant for the summer's operation. From 12 to 15 women will be added during the bean harvest. Sutherland will keep his eight-man crew employed the year around and in the off season, the crew will log on the 100 forties in Niemann's Hermansville holdings.

For Business Out

For the first year or two, the Hermansville operation will be confined to freezing beans. The green beans are needed at the Wisconsin plants to supplement the vegetables being frozen there which include peas, corn, lima beans and carrots. Later it is planned to freeze other vegetables at Hermansville.

The Niemanns retired from wholesale production of silver foxes about two years ago after the bottom fell out of the fur market. Foxes raised at other farms had been brought to Hermansville in late summer and early fall for priming before pelting time. There were seasons when the fox population at Hermansville approximated 50,000. The Niemanns have kept 350

Automobile Club To Award Prizes In Poster Contest

Prizes of $2,275 and honor of having winning posters used in every elementary school in the country were announced to Michigan grade and high school artists by Automobile Club of Michigan's safety and traffic director Ernest P. Davis.

Prizes and honor are offered in the annual National AAA School Traffic Safety Poster contest, which Michigan students have dominated each year so far. Three times Michigan children have won the $350 grand prize, intended as a one-year scholarship. Safety rules which Michigan artists will illustrate, with separate winners for grade and high schools, are: "Obey Your Safety Patrol," and "Be Extra Alert on Rainy Days." Any student who has already submitted one of these may enter the open classification and also illustrate any traffic safety rule, Davis explained. Entry blanks and rules may be obtained from grade and high schools.

Tamburitians Coming To Escanaba

Just back from Europe after a sensational tour, the Tamburitians of Duquesne University who appear in Escanaba Friday, March 30th, 8:15 p. m. at Junior High School Auditorium are now internationally famous. The colorful college, playing, singing, and dancing troupe performed in the republics of Slovenia, Croatia, Serbia, Macedonia, Montenegro, and Bosnia in Yugoslavia. The armed services schedule in Austria, Germany, and France was cancelled when the intense international situation made government air transportation back to the states unavailable in time for the organization's fall tour commitments.

Abroad the group played twenty programs, all sell-outs, with hundreds of people standing. Crowds ranged from 2500 to 4000. A final show in Pula drew 12,000 when the group performed in an old Roman colosseum built 2000 years ago.

The Tamburitians being the first cultural group to enter Yugoslavia after its break with Russia, were a part of a good-will relations program. Director Gouze said, "Relatives flocked to the programs by bus, train, horse and buggy and even on foot, to see their American cousins in performance."

Audiences marvelled at the perfection and discipline of young American college musicians. They literally ate up the second half of the program which consisted of American cowboy music and dancing, all in authentic costume. The Mexican-Latin American setting was another highlight, as was the modern American section, when the group performed in evening dress, presenting up to date American melodies including a jitter-bug specialty.

As gifts, the group received volumes of folk music, instruction in many new folk dances and two stunning folk costumes from each republic. "This material," Director Gouze said, "would be incorporated in the new performances this season."

Beef Demand Looks Good

Babson Advises 'Think Again' On Dairying

BABSON PARK, Fla.—The changed international situation is already being felt in rural areas throughout the country. Farm land values which had been declining gradually for several months reversed their downward trend almost immediately after the Korean outbreak.

I have always maintained that land, and that includes good farm land, is an acceptable hedge against inflation or other types of crises. It may not be the very best hedge, but in the long run it should turn out to be a pretty good thing when cash is worth little and when other values dip accordingly. However, I do not generally recommend that my readers go out and buy a farm with the idea of growing produce or feeding cattle or hogs to sell commercially. Farming today is too specialized for any such hit or miss approach. What I advocate is that every city family who can afford it should own a sustenance farm, as insurance, capable of sheltering and supporting them in an emergency.

Readers who are now engaged in cattle raising, dairy farming and in producing large grain crops often write asking me what I think of the prospects for the coming year in these fields. In my opinion, cattle prices generally will be well maintained over the next six months. Heavy employment at high wages should result in a continued high demand for beef. I do not anticipate that such demand will be adversely affected, to any substantial extent, by the imposition of still higher individual income taxes in 1951.

Lower Profits Possible

While cattle prices should remain at relatively high levels, increased producing costs generally may further cut profit margins in 1951, thus immeasurably increasing the risk in stock cattle farming. Breeding herds that grow in numbers should maintain their value even in the face of such declines, provided you keep a sharp eye on local conditions, with a view to buying replacements and selling finished cattle at the most opportune time profitwise.

Those readers who now have farm land and wish to buy more or who having had previous experience as owners of farm land, wish to make purchases in new locations are advised to act promptly. Good farm land will go higher. Admittedly, this is not the best time to buy it, but you should do much better now than you will be able to do by late summer. Thus, if you can find a good farm land that is not overpriced, my advice would be to go ahead, provided that you can pay about 50 percent down and still have enough cash left for proper stocking and operating, as well as for emergencies. Productive land is a sound investment and good land should continue to have real value, no matter what price changes may come over the longer term.

Dairy Farming Discussed

Those readers now considering going into dairying should think twice and then stop and think again, even if they have had previous experience in this very uncertain field. Profit margins in dairying vary considerably in different sections of the country and many an otherwise able man has lost his shirt by plunging enthusiastically into a dairy program without giving sufficient thought to the possible consequences. The principal problem in dairying, and it is essentially the same in New England, in the Mid-West or in the Rockies, is the cost of feeds. These feed costs usually represent more than half of the total cost of milk production and largely determine profits.

If you think you can control feed costs, through a well-balanced feed program, which includes careful management of your feed inventory, you can probably make money in dairying. But if you have grave doubts as to your ability to keep feed costs within bounds, steer clear of such an operation. Yet, I think farming generally will be profitable in 1951. Farm income will be up, at least through the first half and, perhaps, beyond. For the year, it should average some 15 percent above 1950.

When tea first was sold in England in 1657, it cost from $30 to $50 a pound, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

P. J. Hoffmaster Built National Fame In Field Of Conservation

THE sudden death of P. J. Hoffmaster, director of the Michigan state conservation department, is a severe loss to the cause of conservation everywhere and, of course, particularly in Michigan.

As director of conservation in Michigan since 1934, Hoffmaster had earned a national reputation as a progressive leader in the development of good conservation programs. He was an ardent believer in the preservation of natural resources and he worked diligently and ceaselessly to attain public acceptance of conservation measures.

In true democratic spirit, Hoffmaster believed that good conservation requires public cooperation and to that end he devoted his life to conservation education. He rarely missed an opportunity to speak on conservation at public meetings, large or small, throughout Michigan. Few public officials have made speaking appearances in villages, hamlets, towns and cities with the frequency that "Pete" Hoffmaster has achieved in selling conservation to the people of Michigan. It was apparent that Hoffmaster really enjoyed these meetings and was glad of the opportunity to make new friends for a cause that was close to his heart.

City To Seek New Sources Of Revenue

THE City of Escanaba's finances for the present fiscal year which expires June 30 are unfavorable, with the prospects of a deficit that may reach as high as $40,000. City departments have been instructed to postpone any expenditures not immediately urgent and to keep operating costs at the smallest possible level.

Unfortunately, however, the prospects for a brighter future are equally discouraging. City Manager Aronson reports that at least $100,000 more in city revenues will be required in the 1951-52 fiscal year than will be obtained for 1950-51, without increasing services now provided by the city. About half of this is in increased wages and salaries already voted.

The outlook may be improved somewhat by an increase in gasoline tax refunds from the state if the bill now before the state legislature to raise the state gasoline tax to 5c a gallon is enacted. The City of Escanaba would gain about $30,000 from that source but this would be partially offset by a prospective drop, now estimated at $9,000, in the intangible tax rebate to the city.

All of this means that the city government will almost certainly be looking for new sources of revenue to maintain municipal government. Just where this new source of money will be found and how it will be collected poses a very tough problem for the city council.

Interesting Comparisons Of Transportation

IF the continuous state of war in which the world has existed for the past twelve years proves anything, it is that transportation is as essential for defense or offense as guns themselves. In the United States, where supplies and men must be moved across 3,000 miles of country from ocean to ocean, no other means of transport can handle mass shipments as do the railroads.

Sufficient steel to meet the railroads' requirements for construction of new freight cars and locomotives and for necessary maintenance must be part of the armament program.

To illustrate the economy inherent in mass transportation by rail, figures have just been released on the requirements in man-power and fuel necessary to move 100,000 tons of freight from coast to coast.

On the railroads it would take 90 tank cars of diesel fuel. By truck it would take 25 tank cars, and by air it would take 2,700 tank cars of aviation fuel. This is aside from the important fact that a great portion of the heavy freight could not be moved in any manner except by rail.

When it comes to manpower requirements the railroads would require 3,500 man-days of train-crew time, trucks would take 90,000 man-days of truck-driver time, and air would require 50,000 man-days of plane-crew time.

All of this shows that while recognizing the important part trucks and planes play in moving men and materials, the railroads are still the backbone of our nation's transportation system and their requirements must not be neglected in allocating materials and manpower.

What Will Be The Price Of Destruction?

WE note that a single medium tank now costs $120,000 and a single heavy bomber costs around $4,000,000. Seems as if inflation has made war material so expensive that civilization can't afford to destroy itself.

Convention Banquet By Gordon Martin

Comes the big convention banquet in the hotel dining room, and the smell of food is mingled with the odor of perfume, there's a clatter of the dishes and the drone of lots of gab, as the delegates attack their salad dish of shrimp or crab. Everyone is dressed in formal clothes of which they are so proud, and there's every sort of person in that noisy, festive crowd.

There's the guy who's had too much to drink and rides a balky chair, and the gal in daring dress which causes other dames to glare. There's the fellow with a story that he simply must relate—he's the life of any party, which he'd like to demonstrate. There's the chap who's very certain he's a devil with the girls, and the babe who drips with diamonds and another draped with pearls.

And, in time, the dinner plate arrives, their hunger to appease, and, as usual, the menu features chicken creamed with peas. Then the chairman of the program has some words that will not keep, and the speaker of the evening starts to put the crowd to sleep. When at last the banquet's over and the final speech is said, overstuffing with food and lots of words, it's time they go to bed.

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

BERLIN—his is the extreme northern end of the iron curtain. I started this trip at the southern end where it begins, between Bulgaria and Turkey—a long line of barbed wire extending north—and have now reached the other end, where it isn't even barbed wire but fans out into the east zone of Berlin.

One of the most important conclusions I've reached on this trip is that Winston Churchill did the democratic world a disservice when he talked about the border between Russia and the western world as an iron curtain, because the border isn't as impervious as the word "iron" indicates. Not only is Stalin's curtain between the east and the west not even marked by barbed wire in many places, but it can be crossed fairly easily.

The border between Czechoslovakia and the American zone in Germany, for instance, can be crossed almost any night. In fact, it is crossed constantly by Germans who make their living smuggling goods back and forth.

The border between East and West Germany is like a sieve while, in Berlin, thousands of people walk or ride back and forth daily between the Russian and American zones. I entered the Russian zone without even knowing I was in it and drove through several miles of its battered streets. The only way you have of knowing you are in the Russian zone is through the signs on the streets which say: "You are now entering the democratic section of Berlin."

This fairly easy access into restricted areas behind the iron curtain raises one of the most important omissions on the part of the United States government—namely, why are we not doing more to influence the people on the other side of the curtain? Obviously the curtain was rung down by Stalin for only one reason: because he fears intercourse between East and West—he knew contact with the modern marvels of capitalism would make it difficult to keep the Russian people happy under communism.

Therefore our best bet to head off war obviously is to go over the Kremlin's head and reach the Russian people and the satellite millions also forced to remain behind the curtain.

EAGER FOR U. S. INFORMATION

How effectively this can be done and how eager the satellites are for information about the U. S. A. is shown right here in Berlin, where our state department is doing its most effective job of propaganda through radio station RIAS. This station, which gets its abbreviated name from "Radio in American Sector," was originally started by the army but is now operated by three state department radio men plus 600 Germans.

RIAS carries a regular schedule of radio entertainment not unlike the average American station with quiz programs having the highest Hooper rating and musical cabaret shows second. Interspersed through all these programs, however, are telling wisecracks and political comment which nickle-nursing Congressman John Taber of New York probably couldn't understand and wouldn't approve of but which have East Germans roaring with laughter—at the expense of Joe Stalin.

RIAS is so popular in Eastern Germany that when the Soviet held its big youth meeting in Berlin last December several thousand supposedly Communist youngsters called at the station out of friendly curiosity, while streams of letters poured into the RIAS offices each month from all parts of Soviet Germany.

One of the most popular features on RIAS is the evening news show at which the commentator uncovers a Communist agent in East Germany.

"You may know Hans Goering, the butcher on the corner of Wilhelmstrasse and Luxemburgplatz," says the commentator. "He may pretend to be your friend but he isn't. He's a Communist agent and is reporting what you do and say to the Soviet police."

East Germans eat this up and the East bureau of the Social Democratic party has kept RIAS well supplied with the names and details of the Communist agents.

LACK OF FUNDS HAMPER'S "VOICE"

The state department operates another Voice of America radio station in Salonika, near the southern end of the iron curtain but, because of sufficient funds, it hasn't really begun to scratch the surface of the iron curtain with effective propaganda.

One trouble with the Voice of America is that it operates via short wave. RIAS, on the other hand, operates on a standard wave and fits its programs right in on regular East German programs. And, being close to the scene, it covers local news, uses local wisecracks and disseminates local political gossip. Making the Voice of America effective from 4,000 miles away is like publishing a newspaper in Chicago from a news desk located in London.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby Jr.

HANDBOOK OF PRACTICAL ENGLISH

Overheard in a telephone conversation: "Well, can you tell me where I can get ahold of her some place?"

This question certainly makes a strange request when it is considered literally. Besides, there are several common mistakes in the sentence: (1) "get ahold of her" for "get in touch with her"; (2) "where I can" for "how I may"; (3) use of the dubious (and, in this sentence, unnecessary) "some place," for "somewhere."

Better: Can you tell me how I may get in touch with her?

Avoid: "I couldn't find them any place." Better: I couldn't find them anywhere.

Avoid: "I lost my keys some place." Better: I lost my keys somewhere.

Avoid: "We have looked every place for him." Better: We have looked everywhere for him.

Avoid: "He is somewhere in the Pacific." Better: He is somewhere in the Pacific.

Avoid: "He was nowhere about." Better: He was nowhere about.

Avoid: "Have you looked anywhere else?" Better: Have you looked anywhere else?

Korean War Gives Our Tactical Air Force Big Boost In Prestige

TAC'S WEAPONS: F-86 Sabres, a potent weapon of the Tactical Air Command, fly over California.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
N Staff Correspondent

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va.—(NEA)—The Air Force is well on its way to correcting one of the Pentagon's biggest post-war errors.

Nine months ago, the Tactical Air Command was a paper organization of frustrated, highly-decorated fighter and light-bomber pilots with not one plane they could call their own. Economy-eager experts at the Pentagon were saying: "Why have an expensive major air command for the support of ground troops when the Army hasn't enough ground troops worth supporting?"

Then came Korea, with its shocking revelation of the state of America's military forces. The tactical air arm was one of the worst aspects—through no fault of TAC.

Today TAC has been given a legal status equal to that of the Strategic Air Command. From TAC headquarters here 10 groups are being whipped into various advanced states of organization at more than 10 bases around the country. By mid-summer a portion of these ground-support groups are expected to be combat-ready. And five more groups will have been organized.

They include "troop-carrier" groups of 48 C-119s each; fighter-bomber groups and reconnaissance bomber groups with 75 planes each, most of which are now equipped with World War II B-26s, and a light-bomber group which is practically combat-ready with B-45 jets. The fighter groups which have been training with the older P-51s are now being equipped with the latest F-84-E jets.

About 80 per cent of TAC's build-up is from the ranks of week-end warriors, air National Guard and active reserve pilot who have been called to active duty. Their average age is between 30 and 35. They've brought their families with them. Most of them have taken cuts in pay. It's not an easy new life.

And, although they had forgotten the headaches of military red tape and still chafe under the necessary Air Force administrative details, their flying proficiency has amazed TAC's top commanders. Maj. Gen. Glenn O. Barcus, TAC's No. 2 man and a veteran leader of ground support units during the last war, puts it this way.

"These men have brought to our outfit a wealth of experience and flying ability which we never dreamed of having during World War II. They've responded to training amazingly well and are making a wonderful contribution to putting tactical air back in business."

The morale of the Air Force pilots who have been called back to duty is extremely high.

Top man of TAC is a veteran fighter pilot, Lt. Gen. John K. Cannon, a tough and efficient organizer. He has just been called back from two years as commander of U. S. air forces in Europe to take over this important assignment.

His first military service was as an infantry officer. In 1922, he got into the Air Corps and has been in tactical aviation ever since, and has seen combat in North Africa, the Mediterranean and Europe.

When Cannon took over, however, he found a going concern with plenty of solid and new plans under way as part of the mobilization. Already progressing well are such things as the training of tactical air control parties to be employed with front line army units. This is being done at TAC's Ninth Tactical Air Force at Pope Field, adjoining Fort Bragg, N. C.

It involves close training with infantry units, parachute training for some units that will operate with airborne troops, the use of new radio equipment and new procedures learned in Korea.

TAC units have supplied pilot replacements for Korea, and many Korean-experienced pilots are back with various groups to help with training.

One outstanding accomplishment of TAC is a new and closer cooperation with Army units. Specific Air Force units have been assigned to support specific Army units, and have been stationed as close together as possible.

The 40th Infantry Division at Camp Cook, Cal., for example, will be supported by the 116th Fighter Group at George Air Force Base, Cal. The 40th and other National Guard divisions will actually train and hold maneuvers with their assigned fighter groups. This is shooting at the kind of close air-ground cooperation which is standard Marine Corps practice, and which has paid great dividends in Korea.

To a certain extent, the build-up of TAC is being delayed by shortages of equipment and airplanes. The reconnaissance groups are using bombers and have had to install make-shift cameras to perform their training missions, and the latest type of electronic equipment is slow in coming.

Eventually, every airplane assigned to TAC will be jet-propelled. But this will take years.

And while the training program of all TAC units is not being seriously affected by shortages and bottlenecks, their combat-readiness obviously depends almost entirely on how soon the jets and new electronic gear become available.

I can't tell you what "The Thing" is.—Bandleader Phil Harris.

CITY PLANNING — All of us have an interest in city planning but few of us feel there is anything we can do about it.

City planning is dedicated to the proposition that with thought and preparation your town can be made more beautiful, more livable over a long period of time. With this we agree.

There is "short term" planning, however, that you as the individual citizen, can accomplish without the necessity of conference, commission, or city ordinance.

Specifically we mean the annual spring clean-up, paint-up program, with a bit of flower and shrub planting tossed in for good measure.

IN YOUR OWN YARD — Many of our good citizens are moaning over the apparent increase in regulations and controls that afflict the state and nation—and the community.

Voluntary individual action, the old free enterprise system, is what is needed, they say.

Well, here is the place to show how strongly you believe in city planning at the strictly local level—your own little homestead some 50 feet wide and 140 feet deep.

With spring just around the corner and melting snow already revealing "blight areas" in your own yard, why not do some short term planning for improvement in 1951?

NOT SO COSTLY — If you are wondering about the high cost of paint and painters, grass seed and landscaping, take heart.

The cost need not be excessive for the work on lawn, flower bed, and other exterior decorating. As for the painting, that has to be done sometime anyway and if the house needs a paint job do it this year.

If the house was recently painted but is grimy from winter's accumulation of soot, you might consider the possibility of a wash job. Owners of smaller houses can do that job themselves with the aid of a ladder, water, soap, and a rinse from the garden hose.

A BRIGHTER CITY—By the same token it is not excessively costly to brighten your yard with flowers and shrubs.

Iris, lilies of the valley, peonies, tulips, and many other beautiful flowers come up year after year with very little attention; lilacs, forsythia, bridal wreath and other flowering shrubs need little more than planting to do well in this climate.

Even if you are making a wholly new start this year there is no reason to be without brightening flowers this summer. There are many annuals that will bloom well if planted as soon as the ground is workable.

A few petunia and pansy plants from the greenhouse will make bright spots of early color, filling the gap until your own plantings break into flower.

The more hardy roses, particularly the climbing variety that now comes in several colors, require little care and have a long blooming season.

WHAT IT MEANS—Delay is the bane of all good intentions. The plans made now must be carried through to completion if you do your part toward good city planning.

The benefits will be almost immediate. Unlike long-range planning, you will see in one summer an improvement that will bring greater satisfaction in living and an increase in the sale value of your property. Not that you will want to sell after your home has its proper setting. Your pride in it will be too great.

Granting that everything cannot be accomplished in one season, the home owner or occupant undoubtedly will want to make "short term" city planning an annual event.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—News that the 1941 bill providing state aid for public libraries was introduced yesterday in the state Senate at Lansing has been received by Adele Hessel, librarian at Carnegie library. The measure provides an appropriation of $500,000 and sets up requirements which libraries must meet to obtain assistance. Carnegie library here meets the requirements.

Escanaba—Arthur Johnson, seaman first class, has completed a three month training course in the U. S. Maritime Service at Hoffman Island, N. Y., and has arrived for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Magnus Johnson. He will remain here until opening of the shipping season on the Great Lakes.

Manistique — Kenneth Jones has been appointed to the Manistique fire department to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Ray Lanier, City Manager P. H. Beauvais has announced.

Escanaba—Mrs. Gust Willman, 1810 Third avenue south, is planning to leave the latter part of April on a trip to her old home at Dallerd, Sweden. She last saw her parents, two sisters and two brothers when she visited in Sweden in 1921 and 1922. She will be away three or four months.

Manistique—Four candidates, Arthur O. Drevdahl, Charles Howard, Herbert K. Peterson and Henry J. Neville, have filed written examinations with the U. S. Civil Service commission for the office of postmaster here.

Gladstone—Grace Hood has arrived from Lansing, where she teaches school, and will spend the Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Hood.

St. Lawrence Seaway May Delay Work On Taconite Iron Ores

By JOE HALL
(P) Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON—(P)— Passage of the bill to authorize construction of the St. Lawrence seaway probably would act adversely on development of low-grade taconite iron ores in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, some Congressmen say.

The administration is putting on a big drive to get the St. Lawrence measure through Congress.

Most Michigan Congressmen are supporting it strongly because of the general benefits to the Great Lakes area.

However, the members who are directly interested in the taconites recognize that the seaway might delay work on the low-grade ores for many years.

Safeguard for Future
The taconites long have been considered a safeguard for the nation's steel supply when high-grade iron ores are exhausted.

Development of the taconites has been pushed recently because of the rapid depletion of the high-grade ores in the Mesabi range in northern Minnesota. This range long has provided raw material for the bulk of the nation's steel supply.

But advocates of the St. Lawrence project are pinning their hopes at this session on an argument involving the same point.

They emphasize the approaching exhaustion of Mesabi ores and assert that the seaway is the answer because it will permit high grade ores from Labrador to be shipped by water to the present steel plants.

If the Labrador deposits, as well as those in Venezuela, prove as large as some reports indicate, their development might hold back any work on the low-grade taconites for a long time.

However, Congressmen who are urging that the taconites must not be neglected take some comfort from the taconites plant now in production at Aurora, Minn.

Good for 80 Years
This is the first such plant in the country and is being closely watched. Another is being built at Babbitt, Minn.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines estimates there are 2,000,000,000 tons of taconite ores in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

These could produce 800,000,000 tons of iron concentrates, enough to take care of 10 per cent of U. S. iron needs for 80 years at current consumption rates, the Bureau says.

The big steel and mining companies never have done much with the taconites because they are more expensive to process than high-grade ores.

Last year Rep. Bennett (R-Mich.), whose district is in the Upper Peninsula, introduced a bill to permit the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make long-term loans for development of taconites.

The measure did not get anywhere but the defense production act, passed last September, did contain authority which would permit the federal government to assist in production and processing of taconites.

Bennett told a reporter there was a possibility he might re-introduce his bill this session. He said there is much interest in development of taconites in his district but not, so far, on the part of the big companies.

"They have been doing research on taconites for a long time," he explained. "They say they will be ready when the time

Child's World Is Wonderful

Carmelita Plonka

The world that children live in is mighty wonderful... filled with little daydreams and hopes and joys that make the older folks sometimes wish they were schoolage again. But boys and girls have their ups and downs, too, particularly when they are not feeling well. Ten-year-old Carmelita Plonka, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Plonka of 3202 S. Aberdeen, Chicago, Ill., was not feeling good recently and was just too listless to get the most out of her school days. Fortunately for Carmelita, though, her grandmother suggested that her mother give her HADACOL, because she had heard how much it was helping children deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. Now Carmelita feels fine and her mother says she has a big appetite.

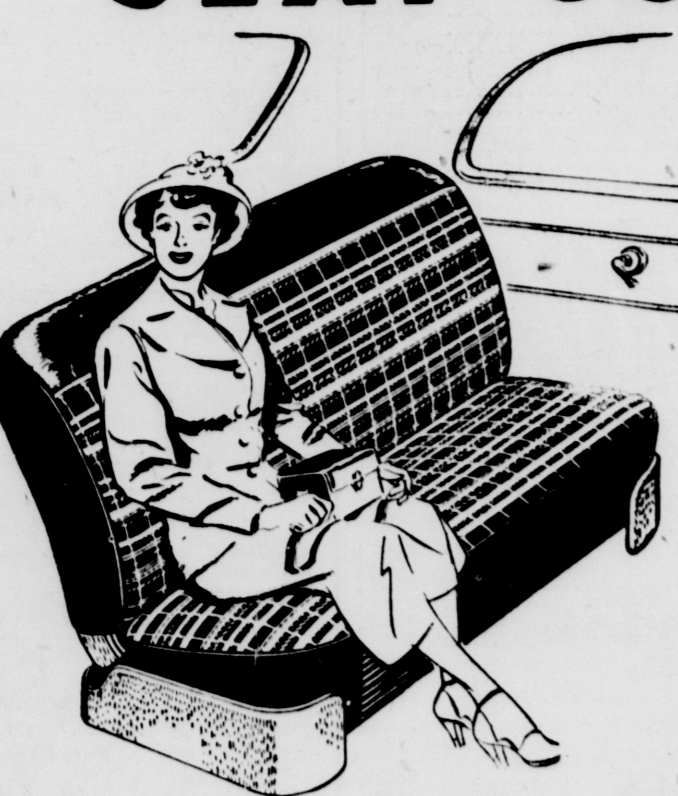

Here is Mrs. Plonka's statement: "My daughter Carmelita, who is 10 years old and in the fifth grade, had always been underweight and I had to positively force her to eat. She had no interest in food whatsoever, but I knew that she had to eat. When we were visiting my mother in Missouri over the Christmas holidays she suggested I give Carmelita HADACOL. I bought a large bottle of it that same day and was amazed at the change in Carmelita. Her appetite picked right up and she now eats three hearty meals a day plus in-between snacks. I have really praised HADACOL, and highly recommended it for everyone."

HADACOL can help you if you suffer such deficiencies. Ask your druggist for HADACOL today.

France Threatened By Wave Of Strikes

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS—(AP)—A mounting strike wave rolled through France today, threatening to affect almost everyone in the nation. A near-general railway walkout appeared the most alarming immediate possibility.

Premier Henri Queille warned that the strikes, all pressing wage increase demands, "may develop into a veritable attempt on the life of the country."

Most of the stoppages were aimed directly at the government, by far France's biggest employer.

Briefly Told

Railroader Hurt—Rudolph Lindstrom, 624 South 14th street, Escanaba, brakeman for the C. & N. W. railway, suffered a torn ligament in the knee while trying to board a caboose at Marinette on Sunday. He was taken to Marinette General hospital.

Injured—Miss Emma DeHooge of 429 South 14th street suffered a minor back injury last night in an auto collision at 7 p. m., at Ludington street and Lake Shore drive. Miss DeHooge was a passenger in a car driven by Eldridge Newhouse of 1407 Sheridan road, which was hit in the rear, while making the turn, by a car driven by Charles R. Wickman of 900 Lake Shore drive. Both cars were going in the same direction.

Rib Bones Stop Two Suicide Bullets Of Chicago Worker, 58

CHICAGO — (AP)—Efnil Premas is convinced that he is almost indestructible.

The 58-year-old factory worker was quoted by police yesterday as saying he was surprised and disappointed that he had flubbed two attempts to kill himself.

Police Lt. John J. Corcoran said Premas related that on Saturday, in a fit of despondency, he went to a railroad siding and fired a .32 caliber bullet into his chest. He walked home and went to bed, expecting to die.

But Sunday morning he awakened, surprised. He brooded all day and Sunday night he aimed for his heart and again lay down to die. But again death eluded him, and on Monday his brother, William, saw blood soiling Premas' shirt and called police.

Surgeons who removed the bullets said Premas aim for his heart was close to the target but that rib bones deflected the bullets. Hospital reports say Premas is "recovering nicely."

Dock Tieup Delays 1951 Ore Shipping Rush At Escanaba

100,000 tons over last year. "I feel hopeful the workers will reconsider their action and leave this difficulty we seem to have up to some tribunal for settlement, and go back to work until this settlement is reached," Longman said.

The Iron Ore Handlers served notice they would be absent the same day the cutter Mackinaw broke channels into Escanaba harbor, coinciding with announcement that the first ore carriers were scheduled to come here Friday, March 23.

The Strs. Pathfinder and Salwood of Pickands Mather line are scheduled for Friday; the E. J. Block of Inland Steel and C. C. Conway of the Hanna line Saturday.

Seek New Contract

The Str. L. E. Block of Inland Steel is due March 27, the E. T. Weir of the Hanna line March 28, and the L. E. Block is to return on March 30, with the Burlington scheduled April 1.

Leonard Reynolds, C&NW Peninsula division superintendent, said it may be necessary in view of labor trouble and ice conditions to hold back arrival of the boats.

The Iron Ore Handlers union through its president, Ed Kozitzky, yesterday served the following notice on Lee McMillan, C&NW dock agent:

"According to understanding No. 1 to Rule No. 1 (seniority) of rules governing hours of service and working conditions of iron ore handlers, please be advised we will be absent from service until further notice."

The Iron Ore Handlers are understood to be dissatisfied with the terms of their present contract and seek negotiations on a new agreement covering wages, hours, and conditions of work.

Big Year Ahead

Following a meeting here yesterday with mining officials, Longman said the C&NW anticipates "doing far better than last year" in ore loadings at Escanaba.

Representatives of the North Western from Chicago, Green Bay, Ashland and Escanaba discussed problems of increasing ore movement with the following mining company officials:

Norman Thomas, Ironwood, of Pickands Mather company; John Thomas, Duluth, Pickands Mather company; F. G. Fleckenstein, Duluth, Oliver Iron Mining company; and A. W. Elmgreen, Duluth, executive secretary of the Ore Operating Committee representing mines in the Gogebic and Mesabi ranges.

Last year a total 5,007,221 tons of ore were shipped from Escanaba. The peak year of the past decade was 6,330,565 tons in 1943.

Russians Have Plenty A-Bombs, Says State Civil Defense Chief

BATTLE CREEK, Mich.—(AP)—Michigan's civil defense director says the Russians have enough atomic bombs to hit "every major critical target area in the United States at the same time."

Half the population of the United States lives in critical target areas and Michigan has 16 of them, Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland told a joint meeting of two service clubs yesterday.

"With all the fighters we could get and all the radar we could afford," he said, "at least 70 percent of all enemy planes will get through."

MSC Welcomes Fresh Gridders

EAST LANSING—(AP)—Michigan State college made plans today to welcome freshmen to its football forces following the Big Ten announcement that the frosh would be allowed to compete in intercollegiate athletics next fall.

"I wasn't one of those pushing the plan," said Head Coach Biggie Munn, "but now that it's been approved we plan to go along with it."

"I'll welcome any freshmen who show up for spring football practice," Munn said. "I imagine the next step will be to make some provisions for a summer practice session."

MSC Athletic Director Ralph Young said the Western conference had approved the step only after "most of the other conferences" announced they would play freshmen.

"We had to let the boys in our territory know they could come to Big Ten schools and play next fall," Young said. "During the last war they allowed summer practice and set the number of days that freshmen could work out."

Munn said he didn't have any particular candidates in mind but imagined there were some freshmen that could "make a contribution" to the 1951 team.

"Actually," Young said, "there probably won't be many freshmen playing varsity this fall. But if they're still around next year the seasoning will make a lot of difference."

School Head Fired In Investigation Of Enrollment Padding

LITCHFIELD, Mich.—(AP)—State investigators sought today to throw further light on reported padding of school enrollment figures.

The investigation went on following the dismissal of Hubert Beasars as superintendent of the Litchfield township school. He admitted the rolls had been padded to get more state money because the district was running in the red.

An effort also was being made to locate key records reported missing.

The 1949-50 enrollment figures could not be found when Hillsdale county undersheriff Estel Piper went to get them for safekeeping. Piper acted on orders from state school superintendent Lee Thurston.

The Way To Calvary

Many women wept at the sight of Jesus being led to Calvary. Among them was a girl named Veronica, who wiped the blood, sweat and dust from his face. It is written that He left the print of His countenance upon the cloth.

At one point, Jesus turned to the women who followed him, saying, "Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves and for your children."

Two thieves, Dismas and Gestas, condemned to die with Him, were in the procession to Golgotha, another name for Calvary which meant "place of the skull." They too dragged the heavy crosses on which they were to die.

ANN ARBOR—The Department of Defense has not requested educational institutions to accelerate their academic programs, Robert L. Williams, assistant to the provost of the University of Michigan, declared Friday.

Speaking before a conference of Michigan junior college faculty representatives at the Michigan Union, Williams quoted an assistant secretary of the army as saying, "The Department of the Army has no occasion to request the colleges and universities to accelerate their academic programs at this time."

Williams said similar views had been indicated to the university by representatives of the navy, marines and air force. He pointed out that the armed forces are serious in this point of view since neither the military academy at Annapolis had been asked to speed up their educational programs.

Two Vote Contests In Michigan Settled By Hairline Margins

MUSKEGON — (P) — Hairline margins, after recounts, have settled two more vote contests in Michigan.

As a result, Republican Clyde H. Geerlings of Holland and Democrat Jan B. Vanderploeg of North Muskegon will fight it out for state senator from the 23rd district.

The electorate of Muskegon and Ottawa counties will choose between the two in a special election April 2.

The recounts were completed Monday and confirmed the previous official canvass—with some adjustment in the GOP vote.

The special election will fill the post left vacant last month by the death of Sen. Frank McGee of North Muskegon.

Vanderploeg's original one-vote Democratic victory stood up from the recent primary. The totals remained at 602 for Vanderploeg to 601 for Millard Woods of Muskegon Heights.

Geerlings' eight-vote edge in the GOP contest was reduced to five votes. Geerlings was given 1,436 votes as against 1,431 for Robert J. Kouw of Holland.

LIKE the Easter Rabbit, I have a short tale. It's from the Stephenson Lumber Co. at Wells, and it goes like this:

Time to be sprucing things up around the house. Stephenson's suggest that you check those outside stairs for repairs; look over your screens and sashes and put them in ship shape order; build those extra storage shelves you've always planned on. The best quality lumber for all your needs from Stephenson's! And as the baby rabbit said when he sat in a March snow drift, "My tail is told!"

PSYCHOLOGISTS tell us that certain colors affect our personalities. Here's my personal rating on the luscious Spring colors of Penney's Spring hats: that pale rosy hue will have you feeling in the pink; you can never feel blue in those pert navy chapeaus with white trim; those little emerald straws will have the girls green with envy; that new wheat shade will have you feeling your oats; mighty white, of them to show those summer whites so early! In the red? Never! Penney's hats keep that budget in the black—$2.98 to $4.98!

IT'S a pleasure to shell out for a dozen chocolate cream eggs at the Fair! Mrs. Stevens' candy in a special Easter egg crate is all it's cracked up to be, and guaranteed to tame the most hard-boiled youngster! You'll find that the unique variable-ratio steering assembly in the new Studebaker will give you a good turn! This extra leverage for easy parking lets you edge in and out of tight spots with real ease. Another good turn by the makers of Studebaker—you get extremely high mileage with out using premium gasolines. Well, one good turn deserves another—why don't you be nice to yourself and stop in at the Petersen and Jacobson Auto Service? See that super Studebaker in the flesh!

Asking Neighbor's
Advice Wastes
Everybody's Time

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

When we seek the answers to our children's misbehavior problems from our neighbors, relatives and friends, were wasting their time and ours.

The problems of Mary's bedtime tantrums, Jimmy's defiant manner and shy little Fred's chronic lying have answers. They are waiting to be found, not in other peoples advice, but in us—in our secret fears that we are incompetent and unworthy of love and respect.

Mary's mother, shaken and distressed after her little daughter's nightly bedtime scene, might begin solving the problem by first giving herself time to recover some calm.

Then she might start to think like this: "That was a tantrum. Why does it frighten me so? Why should I kick and screams disturb me? Perhaps they are not what disturb me. When I tell Mary to go to bed, I am taking authority. I am making a decision. Could it be that making decisions upsets me. Why should making decisions frighten me? Don't I trust myself to make good ones?"

When Mary's mother has reached this point in her self-investigation, she might put down her darling and ask herself the really big question: "Who or what has made me feel incompetent to make good decisions for my child?"

Doing Your Own Homework
Jimmy's mother might take a little holiday from reproaching Jim for his impudence and think over thoughts like these: "This is impertinence I am receiving. Why does my child give it to me? Is there something about me that suggests that I am willing to accept indignity? Maybe. What could it be? Who or what has made me believe that I am not entitled to courtesy and consideration?"

That last one is her biggest question.

There is the answer for Fred's mother too, if she really wants to find it. She might say to herself: "So it's another lie. He did break my dish. He tells me he didn't break it because the truth would show him up as careless. What have I done that has made my little boy feel that he cannot confide a carelessness to me? Am I ever careless, weak and frightened? Of course I am. Then why do I pretend that I am above carelessness, weakness and fear? Am I trying to prove I'm different from the rest of the human race? Who and what has made me feel I have to prove such a thing?"

When we begin to figure the answers to questions like these, we'll be too busy to ask other people to do our homework for us. If we keep on trying to find those answers, we'll get them for ourselves like mature parents.

It would be wonderful if every town could afford to operate a "Quack Shack" for their young people similar to the one at Baytown, Texas. A little clubhouse of their own gives teenagers an opportunity to plan something definite instead of sitting home twiddling their thumbs. It is marvelous, too, for newcomers to the neighborhood.

Just in case you can persuade a group of young people to try to promote a similar activity, here is some news about how the Shack ticks.

It is a two-story frame structure, 30 by 70 feet, a former Army barracks turned over to the youngsters by local owners. Use of the fatalities is limited to boys and girls from 13 to 20 who live in the Baytown area. Dues are $1.50 a year, which entitles the young moderns to admission to all programs at an average of 134 cents a night. At present there are 400 members, of whom from 225 to 250 make up the average attendance. Smoking and drinking are banned.

The first floor has entertainment features consisting of ping-pong tables, pool tables, checkers, dominoes, canasta, bridge, a combination radio-phonograph, storage space for supplies.

The second floor has ballroom facilities, a nickelodeon, piano, soft drink bar refreshment booths, and chairs. Broadcasting facilities also are available for a Saturday night program called "Quack Shack Hit Parade."

It took 1200 Junior Chamber of Commerce men hours of work in renovating the place and a cash investment that the group has been working to realize since 1944.

Many girls are writing to ask how they can go about corresponding with servicemen. It has been discussed here before, but just a reminder to girls who are planning to become pen pals with servicemen: Don't pick up with strangers just because you want to start a correspondence. Wait until you are properly introduced or you get the name from your local religious, school or club group. You still should observe the social graces even if the man is in uniform, so it wouldn't do to walk up to a serviceman on the street, introduce yourself, and tell him you'd like to write to him.

News from Hollywood is that high-school kids no longer drive jalopies, dress sloppily or describe their boy-friends as "dreamy." New lingo goes like this:

A jalopy or heap is now a "rod" or "bomb." "Terrific," "great" and "swell" have replaced "dreamy." Instead of saying "let's do so and so," the kids say "best we do" this or that. "Let's shove" instead of "shake a leg" and "a wheel" instead of "a big wheel," "schmo" instead of "jerk" are other changes in movieland vocabulary.

Here is some more advice for baby sitters offered by Burton Steinberg, president of City College's Baby Sitters Association, just in case you need a little briefing. The New York College Association offers this "baby sitters code" to students looking for that kind of employment.

Follow instructions left by parents, know the location of the baby's supplies, know where the parents can be reached on short notice. In case of emergency always take care of the baby first. Don't make personal telephone calls unless you've asked permission of your employer.

Club 314 Party
Saturday Night

The first social activity of the post-Lenten season at Club 314 will be an Easter dancing party which will be held Saturday evening, March 24. Music will be played by Harold Cloutier and his orchestra. All teen-agers of the community are invited.

Texas has more miles of railroad than any other U. S. state—15,6700 miles.

player. Don't raid the ice box indiscriminately—eat only what the employer has given you permission to take. Don't make a party of the evening inviting your friends in unless you receive permission to do so.

The schedule of standard fees is: Afternoon sitting until 6 p. m.—60 cents per hour. From 6 p. m. to midnight, the fee is 70 cents. After midnight a rate of 80 cents is charged.

Shortage Of Nurses Is Acute
In Michigan

LANSING—(AP)—One out of every 11 high school girl graduates in Michigan must become a nurse to meet the state's nursing needs.

That was the report of the Michigan Nursing Center association to Governor Williams today. The governor asked for suggestions for eliminating the shortage of nurses.

Miss Rhoda F. Reddig, association president, reported that Michigan needs 20 per cent more nurses, about 700 new students in professional schools and about 300 practical nursing students.

The association suggested that nursing schools be opened to men since there was a definite need for male nurses and few places are training them.

Chevs To Play Newberry Five

Game Slated For Saturday Night

The Manistique Chevs, second place winner in the Upper Peninsula independent basketball tournament, will meet the strong Newberry M. J. Pikes Saturday night in the new gymnasium, it is announced.

The game is slated for 8:45 p. m. A preliminary will start at 7:30. The Newberry team, victors over the formidable Soo Men's Store five, has three former Northern Michigan College of Education players in its line-up, including Morley Fraser, Newberry football coach. Other Northern stars on the team are William Zagelmaier and Cliff Pucket.

The Chevs, despite the loss of George Danko and Larry Milavec, who have returned to duty on Great Lakes boats, are still one of the most powerful independent fives in the peninsula.

Their 49-45 loss to the Norway Benzie last Saturday night in the finals of the independent cage tournament is attributed in part to the fact that their high scoring ace, Dick Berger, was out of the lineup. Berger is usually good for 15 to 20 points.

Inland Channel Refills After Being Cleared By Ice Breaker Mackinaw

A channel into Port Inland harbor, cleared Monday afternoon by the Coast Guard ice-breaker Mackinaw, was closed again Tuesday morning by wind action, it is reported by A. W. Heitman, general superintendent of the inland Lime and Stone company.

The harbor was clear of ice last weekend but high winds since have filled it with floe ice extending out between eight and 10 miles. The ice measures 15 to 20 inches in thickness.

Although the channel has refilled with floe ice, the inland official reported that the first boat is expected some time next week. Definite word on the name of the first ship and its time of arrival is expected Thursday.

Last year the shipping season at Port Inland opened shortly after mid-April.

The program follows: Prelude: Margaret Mueller, organist.

1 to 1:15: The Word of Intercession, "Father, Forgive them, for they know not what they do."—Rev. Peter Porta, pastor of the Gulliver Baptist church.

1:15 to 1:30: The Word of Authority, "Verily I say unto thee, today shalt thou be with me in paradise."—Rev. William H. Schobert, pastor of the First Baptist church. Solo, choral selection, Mrs. Vern Linderoth, accompanied by Mrs. William H. Schobert on the piano.

1:30 to 1:45: The Word of Remembrance, "Woman, behold thy Son! Behold thy mother!"—Rev. S. B. Dickinson, pastor of the Free Methodist church.

1:45 to 2: The Word of Loneliness, "My God, My God, why hast thou forsaken me?"—Rev. Harold Martinson, pastor of the Bethel Baptist church. Choral

The program will include talks by J. Joseph Herbert, R. G. Hentschell and O. J. Schuster.

Hugh Hartley, of Ionia, president of the Michigan Elks association, also expects to attend the banquet and present a message of greeting from the state association.

Following the program new officers will be elected by the lodge.

The banquet will be held in the lodge room, and following the meal the room will be cleared for a regular meeting and program. Carl Carlson, exalted ruler, will preside.

Survivors are his widow, Alice; four sons, Clifford and Alger, of Gulliver, Gordon, of Lansing, and Harold, of Fairview; one daughter, Mrs. Ida Rice, of Wayne; three brothers, C. L. Smith, of Manistique, Earl, of Gladstone, and Leslie, of Escanaba; and two sisters, Mrs. Ora Ackerman, of Manistique, and Mrs. Bessie Bragg, of Grass Valley, Calif. He also leaves 16 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Tigers Get Hitting But Hurling Fails; Lose, 16-7

LAKELAND, Fla. — (AP)—The Detroit Tigers still are in a slump on the grapefruit circuit.

They lost their fifth straight exhibition game yesterday as the New York Giants mauled them 16-7. The Tigers have won only two exhibition games and lost six in springtime training.

In most of the games the Tigers have failed to hit. But they recovered their hitting ability yesterday only to see their pitching and fielding go sour.

The game with the Giants was a sloppily played affair witnessed by 1,568 fans who sat through a misty rain in the final inning of the more-than-three-hour marathon.

Good Hit, No Pitch

The new life in the Tiger bats was not enough to overcome their three errors, poor pitching and 16 Giants hits. The Tigers got 13 hits, their biggest total of the season, although they were shut out in the last two innings by rookie Norm Fox.

Vic Wertz had a triple, double and single. Jerry Priddy knocked out two doubles and a single and Johnny Groth hit a home run.

Saul Rogovin started on the mound for the Tigers. He did pretty good although he walked four straight batters to give the Giants their first run. He allowed only three hits in the four innings he pitched.

Detroit held a 4-1 lead when Marlin Stuart relieved Rogovin in the fifth. Then the Giants scored four times on four singles and an error to take a 5-4 lead.

Everything Happens

A three run rally again put Detroit ahead in the sixth, 7-5.

Everything happened to the Tigers in the eighth inning when the Giants broke loose with six runs. Rookie Catcher Rafael Nóbels pinch hit home tied the score at 7-7 and started the rally. Stuart was chased to the showers after he allowed three straight singles. He was relieved by Ken Bremming. Then there was an error by George Kell followed by Don Mueller's two-run triple. On the return throw, the ball was kicked out of Frank House's hands at the plate for another error and Mueller scored to make it 12-7.

The Giants picked up four more runs off southpaw Earl Johnson in the ninth.

Clairmonts Lose At Hermansville

HERMANVILLE — Escanaba's first entry in the Hermansville gold medal tournament — Clairmont Transfers—fell by the wayside last night, losing to Joe's of Hermansville, 51-37.

In other games, Norway Yorkers nosed out Powers-Spalding Twins, 47-46; Menominee Jozwiaks nipped Iron Mountain Zephyrs, 53-52, and Michigan came from behind to clip Peshtigo LaVellies, 57-55.

Tonight Hermansville Rodmans will play Felch at 7, Menominee McClellands will play Baraga All Stars at 8, Wausaukee will play Ewen Bears at 9 and Manistique CYO will tangle with the Alpha Miners at 10 o'clock.

Reno Fochesato was the big thorn in the side of Clairmonts, the Hermansville ace dropping in 14 points. He was aided materially by Pete Peterson with 10 and Jim Kelly with 11.

Clairmonts' scoring was well divided.

18 For DeBakker

In the Norway-Powers game, DeBakker netted 18 points and Hallgren got 12 for the Yorkers while "Corks" Corriveau got 15 and John Pieron hit 13 for the Twins.

Harold Titus, Menominee high school coach, netted 13 points and Big Mike Shatusky got 11 as the Jozwiaks nosed out the Iron Mountain Zephyrs, who were paced by Big Chin Fornetti's 20 points. The winners scored 19 points in the last period to 16 for Iron Mountain.

Calvin Frisk was Michigan's big gun with 19 points as the boys from the north came from behind in the last minute of play to nip Peshtigo. Bundy got 15 and Berth got 10 for Peshtigo.

Bid To Shift Rule Over Boxing Fails

LANSING — (AP) — Senator Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids) failed by two votes yesterday of securing senate approval of a bill freeing amateur boxing and wrestling from the control of the state boxing commissioner.

The bill was revived and tabled, whence it may be lifted at any time for another vote.

Greene said his bill was intended to remove the necessity for Golden Gloves and Catholic Youth organization (CYO) boxing sponsors to pay "excessive" fees to referees, judges and ring physicians elected by the boxing commissioner.

Note To Dave Hill: Uncle Sam Is Calling

ANN ARBOR — (AP) — This was the day that Dave Hill, missing University of Michigan football player, was to report to his draft board.

There was no sign, however, that he would appear.

Even so, the selective service people here didn't want to be harsh about it.

Mayor William E. Brown, jr., chairman of Hill's draft board, said "we're not going to be too hard" on him.

Hill, 20-year-old Negro halfback who was left out when Michigan chose its Rose bowl squad, has been missing since Jan. 20. On that date he should have reported for his pre-induction physical examination.

Friends said the youth had been disconsolate over his failure to be chosen to make the trip to Pasadena, Calif., for the Rose bowl football game.

Hill's last known whereabouts was Montreal. He was staying there with a friend, Dick Lord, Michigan State college hockey star.

"He's not trying to beat the draft, as I see it," Brown said. "Technically, he's delinquent but he wouldn't have been inducted anyway until June 1. I just hope he shows up before the state draft headquarters sends his name to the FBI as delinquent."

Paul Richards Teaches Hurlers How To Pitch

(By The Associated Press)

Chicago White Sox manager Paul Richards, an old hand at developing young pitchers, has two rookies on his squad who are passing their tests with flying colors.

Richards, credited with turning Hal Newhouse into a star with Detroit, has been importing his know-how to Harold (Skinny) Brown and lefty Marv Rottblatt.

Brown and Rottblatt showed Richards plenty as they teamed to blank the world champion New York Yankees, 5-0, in one of nine grapefruit league games played yesterday. It was the first time the Yanks were held runless since last August.

The recruits spoiled the Yanks' appearance in manager Casey Stengel's home town, Glendale, Calif. They set the proud Bombers down on four hits, two each by Hank Bauer and Phil Rizzuto.

Gives Yanks One Hit

Rottblatt, who set the Southern association on fire last year when he won 22 games and lost nine for Memphis, limited the Yanks to one hit in five innings. Brown worked for Richards at Seattle of the Pacific coast league in 1950, splitting 26 decisions.

Two veterans, little Bob Shantz and Carl Scheib, also turned in a neat bit of pitching as the Philadelphia Athletics trounced the Brooklyn Dodgers, 12-1, at West Palm Beach, Fla.

The duo limited the Dodgers to six hits. The A's, meanwhile, pounded Ralph Branca, former teammate Bill McCahan and rookie Clem LaBine for 11 hits. Scheib helped his own cause by driving in two runs with a triple. The A's iced the game with an eight-run assault against McCahan and LaBine in the seventh inning.

Nippy Wins Game

In another well-pitched game, the Boston Braves scored the winning run in the sixth on a single by Roy Hartsfield, an error and another single by Earl Lorgeson.

The St. Louis Cardinals edged the Cincinnati Reds, 4-3, in 10 innings at St. Petersburg, Fla. Nippy Jones, attempting a comeback, drove in the winning run with a fly ball. Nippy also collected a double and single. Stan Musial socked his first homer of the spring for the Cards in the first inning.

Tommy Upton, light-hitting shortstop of the St. Louis Browns, cracked a two-run homer with two out in the 11th inning to give the Browns a 6-5 victory over the Cleveland Indians at Burbank, Calif. The triumph was the Browns' first over a major league foe this spring.

The New York Giants won a sloppily played 15-7 decision over the Detroit Tigers at Lakeland, Fla.

Grenkosky Wins

The Philadelphia Phillies took a 3-5 drubbing from the Kansas City Blues of the American association. A three-run homer by Kal Segrist and one by winning pitcher Ed Grenkosky highlighted a six-run sixth inning that broke up the game. Bill Fogg, victim of the Blues' uprising, later was optioned to Baltimore of the International league along with rookie third baseman Walt Derucki.

Pittsburgh Six Ousted In Playoff

The American Hockey league playoffs got underway last night, but only four teams saw action following the last-minute disqualification of the Pittsburgh Hornets.

In the two contests played, the Cleveland Barons shaded the Buffalo Bisons, 4-3, in overtime and the Hershey Bears downed the Indianapolis Caps, 3-1.

But highlight of the day was disqualification of the Pittsburgh team from the Calder playoffs by league president, Maurice Podoloff.

The St. Louis Flyers, who replaced Pittsburgh in the playoff, protested, and were upheld, that center John McCormack of the Hornets was obtained from Toronto of the National Hockey league after the Feb. 15 deadline for obtaining players.

Nahma To Hold League Banquet

Reds' Ted Had Trouble With A Bear

TAMPA, Fla.—(AP)—A Memphis sports writer once acidly wrote of Ted Kluszewski: "He couldn't catch a bear in a telephone booth." It was as bad as that.

"I was the world's worst," admitted Cincinnati's muscular first baseman.

Bluntly, big Ted was a "freak" ball player until last season when he finally arrived as a big leaguer. In 1950 the extra base threat in his bulging biceps Ted Kluszewski paid off for 25 homers and 111 runs batted in.

Now the Reds talk happily about the day when Kluszewski will wrestle for the batting title. At 26, they rate him one of the coming young stars in the National league.

Worked In Pickle Plant

You probably know about his football career. How Bo McMillin took him out of a pickle factory at Argo, Ill., and made him into a varsity end at Indiana. The Reds grabbed him out of Indiana in 1946 for a $15,000 bonus.

"I never played more than 50 games of baseball before I signed as a pro," he said. "Out around where I live they play more softball. At college I played the outfield."

Cincinnati decided to make a first baseman of Ted and sent him down to Columbia, S. C., in the Sally league. Ted said they got "sort of discouraged" after 40 games and put him back in the outfield.

Johnny Neun and George Kelly worked with him in '47. Then he went down to Memphis where he reminded practically nobody of a first baseman. But he hit 377.

Can't Hit Robin

In 1948 he was up to stay, batting .274. He hit .309 in 1949 and .307 last season. But he didn't find his power until last June.

"I was more of a slap hitter," he said. "They're trying to get me to pull. It just started to come natural to me last June. I don't pull good yet but I'm improving. You get to know more about how the pitchers work the longer you stick around. One guy I don't learn much about is that Robin Roberts of the Phils. I get nothing off him. Kind of ruins my morale. Maybe it'll be different this year."

RAPID RIVER — The fifth annual Central-DE league basketball banquet will be held Tuesday, April 3 at the Nahma clubhouse.

Nahma, by virtue of its having won the league championship, will be host school. Coach Harold Anderson said the main speaker would be named later.

The league trophy will be awarded the winning school at the banquet and announcement will be made of the All-Conference team which will be selected from a list of all-opponent teams chosen by members of each league team.

Players, coaches, school officials and cheer leaders of all league schools will be eligible to attend the banquet.

Preliminary plans for the year-end affair were made at a meeting of league coaches and school officials here this week.

At the meeting basketball schedules for next year were drawn up. Discussion was held on the possibility of holding a baseball tournament but no action was taken. Rapid River, Bark River-Harris, Cooks, Powers and probably Nahma will have baseball teams this year while Perkins, Trenary end Rock plan on having track.

Rudy Puts On Some Extra Gas

The bowling boys were thinking today of giving Rudy Gardner the saliva test—to see whether he was "hopped up" when he rolled about 70 pins above his average to hit over 600 at the Arcade alleys Monday night.

Even today there seems to be some uncertainty as to what Rudy actually did roll. First report was a 668. But Rudy said: "Nope, only 662." He said he rolled games of 216, 217 and 229.

At any rate, Rudy's average is only 150 pins. He rolls for Nesbitts in the city league. After his pin splurge, he told his fellow bowlers:

"Come on, fellows. I can't carry the load alone!"

Owners Lukewarm To Player Plan

(By The Associated Press)

Baseball's front office executives generally adopted a conciliatory attitude today towards the idea that the players, as well as the owners, be given a vote in naming a successor to A. B. Chandler is commissioner.

Will Harridge, president of the American League, assured the players their interests would be protected "regardless of who is commissioner."

"The major league clubs put the pension fund and revised player contracts in operation and will continue to carry them out," added Harridge.

Freddie Hutchinson, Detroit pitcher and player-representative for the American League, broached the player-vote-for-commissioner idea Monday. He said that a petition would be presented to the owners at a meeting in Detroit in July.

"Bad Situation"

If the owners reject the petition, the players may hire a commissioner of their own, Hutchinson said, perhaps the deposed

Kentucky, Illini Win NCAA Tests

NEW YORK—(AP)—Four members of college basketball's elite top ten—Kentucky, St. John's, Illinois and North Carolina State—will square off at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night in the semi-finals of the NCAA eastern eliminations.

Kentucky, will face a tired St. John's team, and Illinois will oppose North Carolina State.

Meanwhile, the western NCAA will start catching up with the east tonight, staging the first two quarter-final games at Kansas City.

Brigham Young, winner of the National Invitation tournament last week, will take on little San Jose State while Kansas State will face Arizona.

Oklahoma's Aggies, favored to win the western title and play heavily-supported Kentucky for the title at Minneapolis March 27, will open their bid tomorrow night against Montana State. Washington, Pacific coast champion, will oppose Texas A. and M. in the other game.

Kentucky had its troubles for a while at Raleigh last night but brought its class to the surface in time to trounce a fired-up Louisville team, 79-68. N. C. State, playing without three of its stars, thumped Villanova, 67-62.

At Madison Square Garden, before 17,107, Illinois' Big Ten champions shattered Columbia's unbeaten record—the only one left—79-71, while St. John's disposed of Little Connecticut, 63-52.

Until they ran up against Illinois' Ted Beach and Don Sunderlage, Columbia's Ivy league titlists had piled up 22 straight victories this year and 31 over a two-year span.

Columbia led 45 to 20 at the half. But Beach popped in seven out of eight long one-handed set shots in eight minutes just before the end of the half. Then Sunderlage went on a one-man scoring spree to catch Columbia, 57-57, with ten minutes to go and send Illinois out front to stay.

St. John's, looking a bit weary from its recent invitation tournament grind, rolled up a 25-point lead early in the last half against little Connecticut and then almost let the game get away on a strong rally sparked by Vince Yokabaskas and Bill Ebel. However, time ran out on the Uconnos.

A capacity crowd of 12,400 saw the two-game show at N. C. State's Coliseum in Raleigh and almost tore down the house when Bill Kurek, subbing for All America Sam Ranzino, led the Wolfpack to its unexpected victory over Villanova. The Gary, Ind., sophomore popped in 27 points.

Radio Listeners Pick Their Oscar Winners In Nationwide Poll

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — If 30,000 radio listeners are right, here are the winners of the Academy awards—10 days ahead of time: Best actor — William Holden, "Sunset Boulevard." Best actress — Judy Holliday, "Born Yesterday." Best picture — "Born Yesterday."

The nationwide CBS poll has been going on for five years and listeners choices have been right every time, says Commentator George Fisher, who conducts it.

Holden's margin was startling — 2 to 1 over the rest of the field. Most polls have conceded victory to Jose Ferrer for "Cyrano De Bergerac," which has not yet been released in many cities.

Miss Holliday topped Bette Davis ("All About Eve") by a comfortable margin, but "Born Yesterday" led "All About Eve" by only a whisker in popular favor.

Bus Driver Quizzed In Death Of Bride, 65, After He Gets Deed

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — An Oklahoma City bus driver is being questioned in the death of his 65-year-old bride the day after she died her home to him.

An investigation dramatically halted Mrs. Minnie Bell Jones' funeral, and an autopsy revealed two minute stab wounds in her chest.

Her bridegroom in secret, Jess M. Jones, 60, was arrested and held without bond.

Lt. Wayne Harbolt of the homicide squad said it wasn't until her death last Tuesday that anyone knew of the woman's marriage Jan. 20 to Jones, who rented a room at her home.

Relatives called Harbolt's attention to bruises about Mrs. Jones' head.

A physician said one of the wounds entered the woman's lung and caused an internal hemorrhage. Death earlier had been attributed to a heart attack.
